Although the Northern Baptist Convention participated as one of the 30 cooperating denominations in the Interchurch World Movement last year, there is little chance that the coming meeting of the Convention at Buffalo from June 23 to 29 will take any action even tending toward the ultimate organic union of the Baptists with any other of the great Protestant denominations.

The marked tendency toward combination that has appeared in some denominational quarters meets with an absolute check in the Baptists' fundamental idea of the church and in the very nature of Baptist church organization. The Baptist churches themselves are not united with each other and it is inconceivable to them that they can form an organic union with other denominations.

In fact, the Northern Baptist Convention went on record in unmistakable terms last year at Denver, in response to an invitation to send representatives to a proposed council for the union of the evangelical churches. The invitation was declined by a formal resolution which set forth that the Northern Baptist Convention while maintaining fraternal relations with evangelical denominations in extending the influence of the gospel of Jesus Christ, does not believe that organic union with other denominations is possible.

The resolution went on to explain some of the difficulties which to the Baptist mind appear insurmountable attendant upon the accomplishment of such a union.

THE SEVEN SISTERS

While Mr. Wilson was Governor of New Jersey he induced the legislature to pass what became known as the "Seven Sisters" laws, being intended to hamper the operations of corporations as much as possible. Since then the state has been trying to get rid of these barnacles by repeal or amendment, until during the month of April the last of the original acts was struck from the statute books. The rule of common sense has been thus restored.

A Philadelphia sign announces: "Shoes half-soled while you wait in first class style." Elsewhere the waiting is done in slippers four sizes too large.

Property Owners and tenants

West Penn lighting salesmen are canvassing Charlevoi this week and if your house is along the company's lines they will see you and give you opportunity to sign up for electric service. They will explain rates and put you in touch with local wiring contractors who are making special prices during the campaign.

The Low Cost of House Wiring Will Surprise You

It's unnecessary to tell you how CLEAN and CONVENIENT and SAFE electricity is; you know that. If you have put off securing this service because you imagined the cost would be too much for your pocketbook, don't delay any longer. Sign a contract when the solicitor calls and arrange to have the wiring done at your convenience.

A Single Outlet Can Be Had at a Slight Outlay

Many families who do not own their own homes are securing electricity by this plan. One outlet permits the use of an electric washer, iron, ironing machine or other device. And when you move you can take the installation with you.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO WRESTLE WITH FOURTH ST. PROPOSITION

Council So Decides at Adjourned Meeting Held on Wednesday Evening

OTHER MATTERS DISPOSED OF

An adjourned meeting of council was held at the borough building Wednesday evening with all members present except Mr. Newton. Mr. Carson was only present for a short time, being called away to attend a meeting of the campaign committee for the Salvation Army, which contemplates a "drive" in Charleroi in the near future.

The first matter of importance to take the attention of the members was the improvements at the corner of Fourth street and Lincoln avenue. After discussing the proposition, which has been before council in one form and another for a number of years, it was finally decided to refer the whole matter to a special committee to be appointed by the president, to take up the matter with the borough solicitor. The chair appointed Messrs. Carson, Duvall and Newton, and they may have a report for the next regular meeting.

Council also decided that when Shady avenue, between Fourth and Fifth street, is paved it be paved 20 feet wide between curbs. This action was taken because of the number of inquiries made by prospective builders.

The matter of the improvement of Lincoln avenue extension was referred to the street committee to confer with contractors.

The street commissioner was directed to remove a wall on Fifth street, at the corner of Shady avenue, which is in a dangerous condition.

The contract for the collection of sewage, and fixing prices for its collection, was presented to council and approved. It is now ready for the signature of the contractor, Oscar J. Rodgers. The fees are slightly increased under the new agreement.

A request from the school directors of Fallowfield township, to hold meetings Saturday afternoons, in the tax collector's room at the borough building was refused. The directors set forth that since the three local banks have established the Saturday afternoon closing, they have no suitable place to meet and consequently made a request of council for the privileges of a room, which the local body deemed it best to withhold.

This concluded the business of the evening and council adjourned.

CHARGE LICENSE FEES TO CARNIVAL COMPANY

At a meeting of the council of West Brownsville, held Tuesday evening, motion was made and adopted, that the clerk place on the books a charge against the Harry C. Hunter shows for 75.00, or license fees for three nights which the company left unpaid during a recent engagement there. The Hunter shows are now at Bentleyville.

REPAIRING BRIDGES ON PIGEON CREEK

As a result of the accident at the Cathoon bridge on Pigeon creek, which collapsed under a truck of the Fox Grocery company last week, the commissioners are repairing a bridge similar in character to the wrecked structure and located about two miles below VanVoorhis. Timbers are being renewed and braces placed in order to make the bridge strong enough to bear traffic.

STAY CONTINUED IN THE LILLEY CASE

In an adjudication handed down a few days ago, Judge Hughes of the Washington county Orphans' Court has continued, until further order of the court, an order heretofore made issued in the nature of a preliminary injunction against Thomas and Jacob Elliott, executors, restraining them from disposing of certain stock of the Lilley Coal & Coke Co., in which the estate of Thomas Lilley is largely interested. The motion to dissolve this injunction order is refused. The court, in making the above decision, holds that apparently neither the estate nor any one interested in it or for it, will, for the present, at least, suffer or be prejudiced, by the continuance of the preliminary order. The court is of the opinion that the record, at the present stage of the proceedings, indicates that the petitions have such apparent right in the subject matter as to permit further inquiry in the cause. The stock involved consists of 500 shares of the Lilley Coal & Coke Co., which were advertised to be sold May 27, 1920.

In connection with the settlement of the estate, Thomas and Jacob Elliott, upon petition, have secured a citation on Jane Elliott, Charles E. Lilley and Walter Lilley, who claim the residuary estate, to show cause why the executors should not be authorized and directed to execute and acknowledge a certain royalty agreement, to the end that they may exercise the power, authority and direction contained in a certain item of the will with reference to opening and leasing certain coal under the Lilley farm.

STREET CAR MEN VOTE TO ACCEPT OFFER

There will be no strike of the employees of the Pittsburgh Street Railways men. By a vote of 2,832 to 238, taken on Tuesday and Wednesday, they decided to accept the wage settlement agreed upon in conference and submitted to them for a referendum vote. The men will receive wages at the rate of 64. 68 and 70 cents, according to the length of service. The wages prior to March 1 were 49, 52 and 54 cents. Working nine hours a day at the maximum rate the men will be able to earn about $37 in a six-day week. The increase is retroactive to May 1.

Christian Endeavor Convention To Be Held at Donora Friday

Local societies expect to be well represented at the thirty-first annual convention of the Washington County Christian Endeavor Union, which will be held Friday in the First Presbyterian church of Donora. Three sessions will be held. The morning session, which will open at 9:30 a. m., fast time will be taken up with the registration of delegates, a song service and a business session, followed by an address on "The Challenge of the Time," by Rev. S. Wikner Beiler, pastor of the Inghram Presbyterian church. The afternoon session will open at 1:30 o'clock with a devotional service in charge of Rev. Morris, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Donora. A Junior pantomime by the Junior Endeavor society of the Donora Presbyterian church, Mrs. E. J. Iams, will be presented. An address will also be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Larimore C. Denise, assistant superintendent of the National Reform Association on "The Worlds of Tomorrow." The nominating committee will make a report at this session.

The evening session will open at 7:30 o'clock with a song service and will be followed by a devotional exercise conducted by the Rev. John T. Purson, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church of Charleroi. H. K. Bragdon, president of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor Union will deliver an address and will be followed by Dr. S. Willis McKelvey, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Wilkesburg who will speak on "Christian Personality."

John J. Oates, who went to the Republican National convention in the interests of Irish Freedom, was appointed an assistant sergeant-at-arms in which capacity he not only has special privileges, but is in position to favor friends. In a letter to M. T. Crowley, received this morning he said he had the privilege of securing a ticket for DeValera, president of the Irish Republic to enter the convention hall. He says he has met many notables there, including Chauncey Depew, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and others. It is his opinion that the winner at the convention will have to beat Johnson and that Sproul is a big favorite.

MISSION WORKER FOR NEWKIRK CHURCH

The Home Mission Board of the Methodist Episcopal church has repaired the Newkirk M. E. church near Bentleyville. The improvements have added much to the appearance of the building. Approximately 1,200 was spent.

Much interest is being taken by the congregation in the activities of a home mission worker who has been placed in charge of the work at that place. Mrs. Anna Potter who has just arrived, is planning an active campaign in the interest of the church and community and is inviting the co-operation of all interested. Plans for furthering the work will be made at the close of the service on Sunday next.

There is too much "back to the farm movement" already. What is needed is a resolute face to the forward attitude.
